'Dhadak 2' actor Rajesh Kumar had only Rs 2,500 in his account; was in Rs 2 crore debt:

'I couldn't bring two chocolates for my kids'

Rajesh Kumar, celebrated for roles in 'Sarabhai vs Sarabhai', is back, thanks to 'Dhadak 2's' success. The film, a romantic drama, has grossed over Rs 400 crore worldwide. Rajesh faced severe financial struggles, including a Rs 2 crore debt, leading him to farming in 2019. The pandemic worsened his situation, leaving him nearly bankrupt. 'Dhadak 2' has given him a much-needed comeback.

Rajesh Kumar, best known for his roles in popular shows like 'Sarabhai vs Sarabhai', Excuse Me Maadam, and 'Kota Factory', is finally back in the spotlight. Thanks to his supporting role in 'Dhadak 2', the actor has found his place again in the film industry. The romantic drama, directed by Mohit Suri and starring newcomers Ahaan Panday and Aneet Padda, turned out to be a massive box office hit. Released in July, 'Dhadak 2' opened to good reviews and shocked everyone with its numbers. The film has already made over Rs 400 crore worldwide and is expected to cross Rs 500 crore soon.

While Rajesh is now enjoying success, has shared that he went through a very tough time not long ago, one that involved financial loss, emotional stress, and a strong comeback.

In an interview with Meri Saheli, Rajesh Kumar revealed he once faced serious money problems. "Bankruptcy, yes. The incoming and outgoing flow had gone for a toss. There was no incoming, and I had exhausted all my reserves because of the outgoing. I went under debt of Rs 2 crore," he said.

He added, "(Bankruptcy) is a big word, but definitely, I had that feeling with me for a long time. I was not able to generate money for survival also. This was definitely a phase.”

Rajesh had decided to quit acting in 2019 and took up farming. But things didn't go as planned. He wanted to break the myth that farming is only for people with no better career choices. “Nobody these days dreams of becoming a farmer when they grow up,” he said, explaining how he hoped to change people's views about farming. Rajesh had barely started farming when things began to go wrong. First, weather conditions affected his crops, and then the pandemic made it even worse.

Speaking to Rajshri Unplugged, he said, “Financially, I was on a slide. By the lockdown, I had used up my savings, and was literally bankrupt. I didn't have anything in my pocket. I had huge loans, and that was adding to the pressure.”The lack of income during that time meant Rajesh couldn't even manage basic survival, despite trying his best. Rajesh also shared a heartbreaking memory of when he worked on a film called ‘Binny and Family’. He had to travel to the UK for a 24-day shoot, but money was so tight that he couldn't afford to bring anything back for his children. In an interview with Dainik Bhaskar, he said, “I had just Rs 2,500 in my bank account when I was in the UK. I traveled back and forth twice during that 24-day shoot, but I couldn't bring back even two chocolates for my kids.”

Throughout this difficult time, Rajesh said it was his family that stood by him and gave him the strength to keep going. He admitted that he wasn't earning enough to even survive, and without his loved ones helping him out, he may not have made it through.

Now that ‘Dhadak 2’ has turned out to be a box office success, Rajesh finally feels like he's back where he belongs. The film has not only helped him return to the big screen but has also reminded fans of his talent. He plays Aneet Padda's father in the film.

When Dhadak 2 Actor Rajesh Kumar Was Rs 2 Crore In Debt: "Had Rs 2500 In My Account"

Rajesh Kumar said, "Financially, I was on a slide"

New Delhi:

Rajesh Kumar, who played Aneet Padda's father in Mohit Suri's sleeper hit Dhadak 2, is in headlines as he opened up about his financial struggles in recent interviews. A couple of years ago, Rajesh quit acting and took up farming to change people's mindset.

But

when he was struggling to make money, his family stood by him.

What's Happening

In a recent interview with Meri Saheli, Rajesh Kumar said that he went bankrupt and had only Rs 2500 in his account.

He said, "Bankruptcy, yes. The incoming and outgoing flow had gone for a toss.

There

was no incoming, and I had exhausted all my reserves because of the outgoing. I went under debt of Rs 2 crore. (Bankruptcy) is a big word, but definitely, I had that feeling with me for a long time. I was not able to generate money for survival also. This was definitely a phase."

Rajesh, who rose to fame with his iconic character Rosesh Sarabhai, took up farming to bust the myth that people take up this with no options left.

He said that nobody these days dreams of becoming a farmer when they grow up, and he wants to change this mindset. He said that his family supported him when he was not making any money.

"Financially, I was on a slide. By the lockdown, I had used up my savings, and was literally bankrupt. I didn't have anything in my pocket. I had huge loans, and that was adding to the pressure," he told Rajshri Unplugged.

"I had just Rs 2,500 in my bank account when I was in the UK. I traveled back and forth twice during that 24-day shoot, but I couldn't bring back even two chocolates for my kids," he said in an interview with Dainik Bhaskar.

About Rajesh Kumar's Career

Rajesh has an illustrious career on television. He acted in daily soaps like Des Mein

Niklla Hoga Chand, Baa Bahoo Aur Baby, Comedy Circus Kaante Ki Takkar, Comedy

Circus, Durgesh Nandinii, to name a few.

Dhadak 2 actor was Rs 2 crore in debt, relied on family's support during bankruptcy:

'Didn't have enough money for survival'

Actor Rajesh Kumar, who turned farmer some years ago, experienced financial difficulties that resulted in him being Rs 2 crore in debt. The film's success marks a return to the limelight for him.

Actor Rajesh Kumar has been a part of landmark series on both television (Sarabhai vs Sarabhai) and the web (Kota Factory). He can now add theatrical films to the list, having played a supporting role in the blockbuster romantic drama Dhadak 2. Starring newcomers Ahaan Panday and Aneet Padda, the film is directed by Mohit Suri. It debuted in July to mostly positive reviews, but shocked everybody with its box office performance. The movie recently crossed the Rs 400 crore milestone worldwide, and will probably pass the Rs 500 crore mark this weekend.

Rajesh Kumar is basking in the film's success, heralding it as a much-needed return to the limelight. In an interview with Meri Saheli, he spoke about the film's success, and his recent personal difficulties. Rajesh took to farming some years ago, and was hit with the harsh realities of the business. He went bankrupt, and at one point, had only Rs 2500 in his account and was Rs 2 crore in debt.

He said, "Bankruptcy, yes. The incoming and outgoing flow had gone for a toss.
There was no incoming, and I had exhausted all my reserves because of the outgoing. I went under debt of Rs 2 crore. (Bankruptcy) is a big word, but definitely, I had that feeling with me for a long time. I was not able to generate money for survival also. This was definitely a phase." Rajesh said that he wants to dispel the myth that farming is only undertaken by people who have no other options. He said that nobody these days dreams of becoming a farmer when they grow up, and he wants to change this mindset.

He said that he relied on his family's support when he wasn't making any money himself.

Rajesh quit acting and took up farming in 2019, but he was immediately struck by a series of setbacks. First, the weather turned against him, and then, he had to contend with a pandemic. "Financially, I was on a slide. By the lockdown, I had used up my savings, and was literally bankrupt. I didn't have anything in my pocket. I had huge loans, and that was adding to the pressure," he told Rajshri Unplugged. Things became so bad financially, Rajesh took up a role in a film called Binny and Family but couldn't afford to buy his kids simple gifts. "I had just Rs 2,500 in my bank account when I was in the UK. I traveled back and forth twice during that 24-day shoot, but I couldn't bring back even two chocolates for my kids," he said in an interview with Dainik Bhaskar.

In an older interview with Galatta India, he said that farming made him a better actor.

"Farming helped me become a better actor. Now, whenever my role demands emotions, I simply remember my farming days and tear up." He laughed as he said, "I don't have to visualise as an actor that my parents died or a friend died, I simply remember: 'Arey yaar, khet mein aag lag gaya tha uss din (The farm caught fire the other day)'," he said.

When Dhadak 2 star Rajesh Kumar had just ₹2,500 left: 'I was ₹20 million in debt'

The actor says he went bankrupt after quitting acting to take up farming

Rajesh Kumar, known for his iconic role as Rosesh Sarabhai in Sarabhai vs Sarabhai, has made a successful comeback with Mohit Suri's Dhadak 2. The romantic drama, starring debutants Ahaan Panday and Aneet Padda, has stunned the industry with its box office numbers — grossing over ₹4,000 million (₹4 billion) worldwide.

In Dhadak 2, Rajesh plays the father of Vaani Batra (Aneet), a young journalist diagnosed with early-onset Alzheimer's. His performance has earned praise for its emotional depth — something he says came from personal experience.

Rajesh recently told Zoom that his portrayal in Dhadak 2 felt deeply personal, as his own mother is battling the same illness. "When I heard the script, I didn't need to act. I had to feel it,” he said. “I see my father, who’s not vocal about his suffering, and that inspired the silence in my performance.”

In 2019, Rajesh Kumar stepped away from the spotlight and turned to farming.

His aim: to break the stigma that farming is a last resort. “Nobody grows up wanting to be a farmer. I wanted to change that mindset,” he told Meri Saheli.

But reality hit hard. Within a few years, Rajesh says he was struggling to survive.

Speaking candidly about his lowest point, the actor said he was left with only ₹2,500 in his bank account, and debts totalling ₹20 million. “There was no incoming, and I had exhausted all my reserves. I wasn’t even able to make money for survival,” he shared.

During a shoot for Binny and Family in the UK, Rajesh recalled being unable to buy even two chocolates for his kids. “That was rock bottom,” he told Dainik Bhaskar.

His financial downfall was compounded by back-to-back setbacks — unpredictable

weather and the pandemic. “By the time lockdown hit, I had used up all my savings. I was literally bankrupt,” he told Rajshri Unplugged.

Despite the hardship, Rajesh credits the experience for shaping him as an actor.

“Farming made me better. When I need to cry on screen, I just remember the day my fields caught fire,” he laughed in an interview with Galatta India.

Amid the chaos, his family was his only anchor. “They stood by me when I had nothing,” he said. Rajesh believes it’s time to dismantle the myth that farming is for those with no other options. “We need to inspire future generations to see farming as a noble profession.”

While his past few years were marked by personal and financial challenges, Rajesh is now basking in the success of Dhadak 2. With critics applauding his grounded performance and the film poised to cross ₹5,000 million (₹5 billion) globally, the actor

says it feels like the tide has finally turned.

Directed by Mohit Suri and produced by YRF, Dhadak 2 follows the story of Krish Kapoor

(Ahaan Panday), an aspiring singer, and journalist Vaani Batra (Aneet Padda), whose love story is tested by life-altering challenges. With its emotional core, fresh lead pair, and chart-topping soundtrack, the film has become one of 2025's biggest hits — surprising many with its enduring box office streak.
